Introduction

This bibliography is a compilation of materials that have been specifically designed for or that have been used successfully with educable mentally retarded students of the junior and/or senior high school level. Although the bibliography is rather exhaustive it is not and was not designed to be a completely comprehensive list of all materials on the market today. Such a listing would be too exhaustive to be practical for the user.

Although this bibliography was compiled by the Georgia Department of Education, it should be understood that the Department does not endorse or recommend any of the materials listed nor does the Department not endorse or not recommend any materials that have been omitted from the listing. Instead, the bibliography was compiled as a reference material for people in the field of secondary EMR.

The one underlying factor contained within the bibliography is the stress on the vocational or pre-vocational materials that are listed. However, some academic materials have been listed for the benefit of those students not yet envolved in such programs.

It is the hope and intent that this bibliography may directly benefit the teachers and administrators of secondary EMR students and therefore indirectly benefit the students themselves.
